1. Call to Order

The meeting was called to order at 2:00 pm by FPSE President Cindy Oliver.

2. President's Report, on behalf of Presidents' Council

In her report President Oliver noted some of the many challenges facing BC's post-secondary education system. She pointed to the failure of the government's Industry Training Authority (ITA) to provide access and opportunities in the area of trades training, despite the fact that ITA's budget is now 30% more than its predecessor, the Industry Training and Apprenticeship Commission. She also identified university transfer programs as one of the many areas within the public post-secondary system that is struggling because of tuition fee de-regulation and chronic underfunding.

President Oliver also emphasized the important work that FPSE and member locals are doing to mobilize public opposition to the recent cut of 2.6% in provincial operating grants to public post-secondary institutions. That opposition is putting increased pressure on the Minister and government MLAs, all of whom face the prospect of a provincial election in less than twelve months.

The President's report stressed the important work that FPSE Standing and Sub-Committees are doing on a wide variety of issues including organizing new members, speaking out on post-secondary policy issues, and ensuring that FPSE continues to play a strong advocacy role in employment security and benefit issues.

President Oliver concluded by thanking the Presidents' Council members as well as FPSE staff for the work they have done over the last twelve months to advance the priorities of FPSE members.

The meeting then recessed for the presentation by the Convention keynote speaker, Dr. Andrew Weaver from the University of Victoria, on "Global warming: The scale of the problem and the path to the solution".

The meeting was re-convened at 3:00 pm by FPSE President and Chair Cindy Oliver, who presented regrets from CLC President Ken Georgetti. President Oliver then introduced Shamus Reid, BC National Executive Representative of the Canadian Federation of Students, who brought greetings from their membership and gave a brief report on their activities.

- [30] That FPSE adopt the Policy Statement on Equity:

FPSE Policy Statement on Equity

Commitment

The Federation of Post-Secondary Educators is committed to achieving equity for groups who experience barriers to full participation as educators or learners in the post-secondary community. Groups include but are not limited to Aboriginal peoples, women, visible/racialized minorities, persons with disabilities and lesbian, gay, bisexual, two-spirited and trans-gendered peoples, and people living in poverty.

The commitment to equity begins with the acknowledgement of inequity and requires a proactive approach to redress the effects of systemic discrimination. In the post-secondary environment, systemic discrimination manifests itself in barriers to access, employment, career progression, inclusion, respect and acceptance. Some forms of knowledge production, dissemination and pedagogy have been privileged over others, a practice that has limited opportunities and scope of activity for marginalized groups.

Goal

The goal of equity is to achieve inclusiveness and social and economic justice through recognition, respect, representation, accountability, and responsibility. It includes actively pursuing the development of balanced, healthy and harmonious working environments.

In the post-secondary sector, we strive to guarantee all people the freedom to realize and fulfill their potential free from restrictions. Such restrictions include unvoiced biases and assumptions, employment and education inequities, lack of accommodation in learning and employment and institution structures, policies and practices which perpetuate systemic discrimination. An inclusive post-secondary institution is one that is active in eliminating these restrictions and promotes the full democratic participation of all its members.

Accountability

Achieving equity is an ongoing process that requires both individual and collective responsibility. Unions must take a leadership role in realizing equity by negotiating equity provisions in agreements. They must respect terms and conditions of employment such as anti-discrimination, harassment, employment equity, accommodation, salary equity and work/life balance provisions. Unions must work to foster teaching and learning environments which value diverse contributions to the post-secondary community at all levels.

17. Convention and Workshop Resolutions

MS (Local 3, Local 21)

WHEREAS:

Communities, both Native and non-Native in the Northern Interior, Southern Interior, Coast and Vancouver Island have been hit hard by many mill closures and layoffs in the forest industry; and

This crisis in the forest industry, which is looking like the worst in its history, is causing serious problems for many small and larger communities throughout the province to the point that the very survival of some communities is in question; and

Forestry-based communities like Mackenzie, Fort St. James, Prince George, Burns Lake, Houston, Fraser Lake, Fort Fraser, Vanderhoof, Quesnel, Williams Lake, 100 Mile House, Chetwynd, Dawson Creek, Fort St. John, Fort Nelson, Hazelton, Smithers, Terrace, and many others. Native and non-Native communities throughout the province have contributed huge amounts of revenue over the last one hundred years to government and corporate profits; Indeed, without this revenue, the province of British Columbia and its infrastructure, as we know it today, would not exist; and

There are serious problems with government forest policy, timber licensing and forest tenure in this province, including the removal several years ago of the provincial appurtenance provision which required companies to process logs in or near the communities where they were harvested; the ongoing export of raw logs out of regions and out of the province; and lack of access to timber for small and medium forest companies and value-added companies, as well as other issues related to forest tenure; and

There are serious problems with the Softwood Lumber Agreement that was negotiated by the federal government and which unfairly penalizes Canadian exports and hurts forestry-based communities; and

Rather than establishing operations in other countries and other continents (using revenue generated in British Columbia), the big companies need to reinvest substantially more in their mills and other facilities in this province to ensure their continued operation in the communities where these mills and facilities are based; and

Governments at the provincial and federal levels need to reinvest substantially more in the infrastructure of communities (health, education, social services, transportation, communications, etc.) that are being hurt by mill closures and layoffs, as well as substantially increase reinvestment in reforestation, silviculture, alleviation of environmental degradation because of the pine beetle, establishment of adequate forest fire buffers around communities, and other factors affecting the health of the forest and the future of communities; and

The Native peoples of our region have a long history of being denied their aboriginal titles and rights, as well as revenue sharing agreements with the provincial and federal governments regarding the forest and other resources, all of which has caused undue hardship, deprivation and loss of opportunity for them. These aboriginal titles and rights need to be restored and revenue sharing agreements acceptable to Native peoples need to be put in place; and

The provincial government must develop a plan that will ensure the survival and flourishing of the forests, forest industry and forestry-based communities, that will foster a more diversified forest industry, that will get more value and more value-added out of the forest resource, and that is based on the principle of managing and developing the forests to ensure the sustainability of the forests, communities and the environment; and

The Native and non-Native communities of the Northern Interior and other regions have every reason to support each other in this crisis under the slogans of "All for one, and one for all" and "An injury to one community is an injury to all communities":

[54] BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

- FPSE support the "Save Our Community Rally" in Mackenzie at 9 am on Friday, May 23, 2008, and call upon its members and member organizations in other communities in the Northern Interior and elsewhere to attend this rally; and
- FPSE donate $1000 to assist people from other communities in the province to attend the Mackenzie rally; and
- FPSE endorse the "Save Our Community" rallies being held in other communities throughout the province under the slogans of "All for one, and one for all" and "An injury to one community is an injury to all communities".

WHEREAS chronic underfunding has undermined the ability and willingness of public post-secondary institutions to maintain successful programming, and has resulted in faculty job losses throughout the province;

- immediately reverse its across-the-board 2.63% cut to post-secondary institutional budgets;
- restore the real 8% per FTE loss in funding over the last seven years;
- institute a freeze on layoffs and the cancellation of courses and programs;
- address the problems students have with the high cost of tuition.
